

THE 6 RAINBOW FISH

In a reef teeming with life, lived six brightly colored fish. Each one had a special taste and a unique way of seeing the world.

Pink was a very affectionate fish. She loved to hug her friends and give them lots of kisses. Although she was very good at hugging, Pink had a little trouble adding numbers.

Yellow was an amazing writer. She created wonderful, adventurous stories. She did this by writing with a small feather in the sand. But there was something curious: Yellow couldn't hear!

Orange was a voracious reader. He spent his days diving into books about seaweed and coral, searching for exciting stories. However, Orange had trouble seeing things from afar.

Purple was a very active fish. He loved to jump and play, and he dreamed of flying like a bird! But Purple had little patience and found it very difficult to wait.

Red was a very intelligent fish. He was passionate about learning new things about the ocean and its inhabitants. Although he was very clever, Red couldn't move from one place to another.

Blue was very tidy. He liked to keep all his shells and stones in their place.
But blue was a little shy and didn't like to talk much.

Despite being so different, the six fish were very good friends. They helped each other with everything. Pink helped Yellow count the words in her stories, Yellow read books to Orange, Orange described the colors of the reef to Purple, Purple taught Red how to jump in the water, Red explained interesting things about the ocean to Blue, and Blue organized everyone's seashells.

One day, a powerful storm struck the reef and left it in ruins. The fish were very sad to see their homes and belongings destroyed. But then they realized that together they could fix everything.

Pink and Purple looked for materials to build new houses, Yellow wrote a song to cheer everyone up, Orange guided the others to find the best places for the new houses, Red shared his knowledge about ocean currents to protect the reef, and Blue organized everything so that everything was in its place.

Thanks to their teamwork and unique skills, the six fish were able to rebuild their home. And so they learned that diversity is a great asset and that together they can achieve wonderful things.

Moral of the story: We are all different and have our own strengths and weaknesses. The important thing is to accept and help each other, because together we are stronger.
